

The Chic Office Style Guide

Designing your best atmosphere for productivity and flow

BEAUTY IS EVERYWHERE WE MUST SIMPLY FIND IT

Here's the deal - having a chic office space isn't just about being stylish, although that's a benefit! It's about designing a space for creativity and productivity to flow.

You want to get stuff done? Then let's remove distractions and reserve our space for things which are both beautiful AND functional!

Below you'll find a list of things I have in my office. I look at them, use them, and enjoy them every single day, and I'm confident you will, too!

NOTE: To grab any of these items, simply click on the title or image and it will take you straight to the Amazon shop where you can scoop them all up!

Crystal Floor Lamp

I have this crystal lamp in my office and it's the most glamorous + functional piece in my home. It gives off great light and you can have it on at any one of 3 brightness levels. Recommended with simple, clear light bulbs for the best look!

La Croix Sparkling Water

Some people love wine (nope!). Some love coffee (guilty!). Some love sparkling water (ME, for sure!). La Croix brand sparkling water is my jam! They have some great flavors, and among my favorites are lime, grapefruit, and their cherry-lime option (the latter in a taller can). So crisp + refreshing!

Grapefruit Lip Balm

Speaking of hydration...this chapstick is perfection. I've been using chapstick for as long as I can remember, and was stuck on vanilla lipsmackers for years. When I discovered Burt's Bees Pink Grapefruit though, it was all over for Bonne Belle. Sorry, Bonne. This stuff smells incredible, glides on so smoothly, and lasts for a long time! This stuff is ready to go whenever your lips are thirsty!

Swarovski Pen

Do you have a fancy note you want to write? Or a thank you card you've been meaning to send? Or even a good old fashion To Do list to pen? Or, honestly, even just some doodling? This is the writing instrument for you!! It is beautiful, sparkly, chic, and writes oh so smooth!

Bouquet of Peonies

If you want to be able to enjoy flowers without the stench, ugliness, or annoyance of them dying, then get yourself a silk bouquet. There are TONS of varieties to fit any style. I chose these ones because they're my favorite flower in my favorite color!

Round Gold Vase

And, of course, you can't have just a bouquet of flowers hangin' out. You need something beautiful to keep them in. I love this vase because it's not only sturdy and beautiful to look at, it's low, so as to not obstruct my view...which is usually of my sweet kitty, Cashmere!

Lemon Lotion

I literally escape into a DREAM whenever I put this J.R. Watkins Lemon Cream lotion on. It activates all of my best memories and it glides on + absorbs perfectly! My skin is rejuvenated and my nose is in for a treat with every single pump!

Persimmon Candle

Oooh my goodness, your nostrils are in for a treat with this one! There are several scents from Voluspa that I adore, and this one is a more recent addition. It's called Saijo Persimmon and it's the perfect mix of citrus and heaven, and it lasts for so long!!

Cute Storage

In order to make sure that your office is functional, and operating at its highest capacity, it's pertinent to have everything tucked away.

Clear desk = clear mind!

WELCOME TO YOUR NEW OFFICE

Now that you're living in a fresh, chic space, it's time to put on your Abundant Productivity Playlist and start jammin' out some serious creativity!

Turn your lamp on, light your candle, write out your daily goals list, moisturize, hydrate (lips + body), and start your day off strong!

Today is yours for the taking! Cheers to a smooth flow of creative productivity and a joyful experience each time you enter your space!

XO Susan

Please note that if you purchase anything through the links provided here, I may receive a commission. My personal guarantee is that I will only ever recommend things I 100% stand behind and use regularly.